

An Opportunity for New and Experienced Attorneys

On behalf of the Connecticut Judicial Branch, I am pleased to welcome you to our courthouses. In various locations throughout the state we are offering a program that will introduce you to the wealth of resources and services that are available, whether you are beginning to practice law or are expanding your legal horizons. This program includes a great deal of practical information as well as legal research information which you will find invaluable in your practice of law in the Connecticut Courts. We look forward to seeing you at one of the sessions.

Very truly yours,

William J. Lavery
Chief Court Administrator

CONNECTICUT LEGAL RESEARCH

- What are the key publications needed for practicing law in Connecticut?
- What publications are available electronically, in print, or both?
- What do you mean it's not all on the web?

This section looks at specific legal resources needed for practice in Connecticut. The basic bibliographic collection needed to effectively practice civil, criminal, family, and juvenile law will be reviewed, including various resources for primary and secondary legal information. Explore the Libraries' lesser known resources that are invaluable for practice in Connecticut. The program will also include a review of the various formats, their strengths and weaknesses, and their usefulness.

JUDICIAL BRANCH LAW LIBRARY SERVICES

This section will provide you with information concerning the extensive resources available at the Judicial Branch Law Libraries. Familiarize yourself with the Law Libraries' print, microfiche, and electronic collection of primary and secondary resources. Discover what information is accessible at our facilities and what information is available from your own desktop. Learn about the various services our staff can provide to assist you in your practice.

E-SERVICES AND WEB-BASED COURT INFORMATION

- What if you cannot remember the date of the pretrial in that Stamford case?
- If you forget to mail your annual registration, can you file it online?
- Where can you find copies of the short calendars for every Judicial District?

This section will provide you with the answers to these and many other questions through a brief summary of the interactive services and information provided by the Judicial Branch to assist you in your practice. Learn about E-Services and the wide range of web-based information available on the Branch's website, www.jud.ct.gov.

COURT SERVICE CENTERS

This section will provide you with information about Court Service Centers, which are court-based facilities that provide attorneys and members of the public with a variety of resources, such as statewide calendar and docket information, court forms, and Judicial Branch publications. The facilities also make available equipment, including computers with Internet access and e-filing capability, printers, fax machines, copiers, and telephones. Find out where the centers are located, when they are open, who staffs them, and how you can utilize this important resource in your practice.
